

Meeting our expectations is paramount to ensuring students get the very best out of their education. We have laid it out clearly for students and staff with the Brilliant Basics, our very clear behaviour policies, and by ensuring students understand the British values and the school core values. We regularly have discussions and assemblies with students to ensure our expectations are met, and we would like to encourage parents and carers to support the school by ensuring students are clear on how they conduct themselves around school and in the wider community. Together I hope we can support all of our students to help them make the right choices and excel while they are at Haven High.

To celebrate National Manufacturing Day, we took a small group of our year 10 & 11 students to visit both Mastenbrook and Gettridge Ltd manufacturing firms. Students learnt the process from start to finish of designing machinery, working with clients, producing drawings, coatings, designing unique products. They got to tour around the working factories, seeing first hand employees working on current projects, machines used and gain an understanding first hand of it. See more

World Mental Health Day

As we approach 10th October 2024, which is World Mental Health Day, it is the perfect time to reflect in any challenges our students face.

EBSA (Emotionally Based School Avoidance)

Many of our students miss school due to their mental health. Missing or avoiding school because of anxiety is called EBSA (Emotionally Based School Avoidance). EBSA can present in many ways. Anxiety classically shows as being withdrawn, fearful and possibly tearful. Avoiding school due to anxiety can also show as being rude, uncooperative, or aggressive. If you want more information on this, KoothTalks are running a short webinar for families which will include what EBSA is, perspectives from a young person, strategies to support young people experiencing EBSA. Meeting the mental needs of neurodivergent and Special Education Needs & Disabilities (SEND) young people.

Children and young people waiting for an assessment or navigating a diagnosis may need additional emotional support. Kooth are offering a webinar this month exploring how our platform meets the needs of neurodiverse and SEND young people. Helping young people stay safe on their smartphone

With over a third of parents and carers feeling uneasy about their child having their first smartphone and how this will affect their mental health and wellbeing, Kooth have put together a session to explore supporting a child's mental wellbeing whilst using the device plus information on UK law and social media usage and online safety tips. Welcome to the Staff

We would like to introduce some of the key staff your young person will encounter...

I have worked here for over a year now, and in that time, I have seen many students and staff go beyond what is expected, to make our campus an enjoyable place to learn. Students are really engaging with the extracurricular activities which we have been running at lunch time. Last Thursday I welcomed over 30 students into the Drama room, for a Taylor Swift sing-along, and next week students have requested that we sing-along with Adele!

I'd like to thank all the students for being so keen to enjoy their time at Tollfield and their positive contribution to our whole school community.

Mrs Stevens – Assistant Headteacher

As the Academy SENCo my role involves working at both Marian and Tollfield campuses. I really enjoy seeing all of our students, especially our SEND and EAL learners, accessing the learning support hubs and intervention programmes. The new language school class are settling in well at Marian and it has been fantastic to see 'fit for focus' starting up at Tollfield this week.

Mrs R Sanderson – Assistant Headteacher - SENCo
Rachel.sanderson@havenhigh.net

Students have settled in really well into their new routines. As a part of my role I observe many lessons, I have seen many students demonstrating our values of Effort, engagement and excellence, not just in their classwork but also in some exceptional pieces of homework. Some highlights for me are students that have gone the extra mile and produced gingerbread biscuits with decorations on that show the distributions of patters that they have learnt about in Geography. The students are producing amazing poppies in form time for our Remembrance display make me, I can't wait to see the finished display.

Mrs Broadbridge – Assistant Headteacher
Tracey.Broadbridge@havenhigh.net

We would also like to encourage students (and their parents) to contact us with individual successes, both in school and in their wider lives and the community. We are passionate about celebrating the success of all our students in whichever field that may be.
