

Its safe to say where has the time gone?! The first term seems to have flown by. Staff have been super impressed by all of the students this term, they have come back to school and really worked hard from day 1, Y9 have settled on the Marian campus superbly and are loving the new challenges in the curriculum. Today we are taking over 100 students on a rewards trip to Blackfriars to see Jekyll and Hyde – I'm delighted to have been invited and look forward to accompanying the students.

Over half term we will be changing the clocks – please can you make sure your young people have bike lights if they are riding bikes to / from school in the dark and that they have bright coats to 'Be Seen' – their safety is of paramount importance.

While we are not physically in school we are still here to support you if you need us, we are just an email away at safe@havenhigh.net

Finally, may I take this opportunity to wish you all a happy, relaxed and well-deserved break.

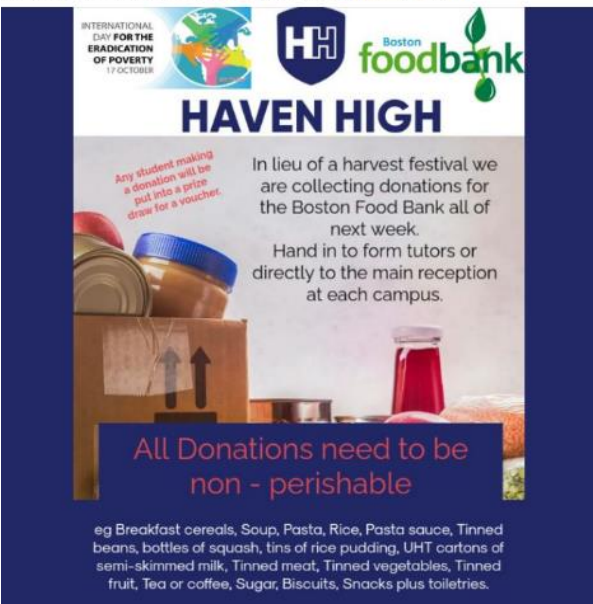

Take Care - Emma Cresswell – Deputy Headteacher - emma.cresswell@havenhigh.net

Safeguarding Nugget

What is Misogyny?

Misogyny is hate against women & girls

- Catcalling
- Objectifying women and girls
- Gender stereotyping
- Prejudice behaviour
- Exclusion of women and girls from certain spaces
- Sexual harassment

It can cause women and girls to feel powerless, afraid and angry.

Misogyny Online

Misogyny is not new, but the internet has created more widespread exposure to it. Children may come across it in both subtle and obvious ways. Misogyny is largely found in videos, images and forums or comment sections.

- Name-calling or slurs
- language suggesting women and girls are lesser than men and boys
- Pornographic or vulgar images
- Content that puts down women

The Links Between Online Pornography and Misogyny

By the age of 9, 10% of children have already seen pornography, increasing to 27% by 11. The abuse of women across pornography online exposes children and young people to misogyny. It normalises harmful behaviour and causes confusion in young people who are exposed about what is healthy.

If unchallenged, misogyny can lead to sexual harassment and sexual violence

Three Ways to Tackle Misogyny in Children

Talk about it

(especially with boys)

- Keep talking about misogyny and online hate even when the news isn't.
- Tackle the tough topics before they find out somewhere else
- Ask them to tell you what they know
- Make these conversations a normal part of everyday life.

Understand the pressures

- Pressures from social media, friends and society could impact their thoughts and actions.
- Discuss how their friends might impact their actions
- Work together to set boundaries
- Show them how and when to seek support

Challenge the narrative

- People who promote misogyny prepare their followers for rejection. Challenge this.
- Instead of telling a child these ideas are wrong, ask them to talk about their beliefs.
- Ask critical thinking questions in a calm and positive way.

Welcome to the Staff

We would like to introduce some of the key staff your young person will encounter...

I just love being a teacher and could not think of a more rewarding and challenging career, hence why I am now in my 25th year ! I have been at Haven High for almost 4 years now, and I have developed the Health and Social Care course, increasing the uptake of students and appointed as Assistant Head of Faculty for Vocational 2.

I really enjoy working at Haven High and there are so many aspects of everyday life here that make my job so enjoyable, I relish the opportunity to work with so many great students and staff, and see what new and exciting prospects the school holds for the next few years.

Mrs Allen – Teacher of Health & Social care/AHOF Voc 2
Lou.allen@havenhigh.net

As Deputy SENDCo at the Marian campus, my role involves working with SEND students in years 9, 10 and 11. I have been working at Haven High since September 2014 and in my current role since June 2023. I enjoy seeing students visiting the Learning Hub for intervention, having fun with their friends during break times or joining in with homework club. I'm proud of our team of TAs who support students in lessons, interventions and wellbeing check-ins during form time. I'm looking forward to starting the NPQ SENCo course and meeting with parents for Y11 SEND reviews next term.

Mrs Brown – Deputy SENDCo
Anstice.brown@havenhigh.net

I have worked at the Marian campus for a year and a half now, my role includes supporting students with additional needs in their lessons and at unstructured times.

The favourite part of my role is to see the difference in the student's confidence and watching them flourish whilst building great relationships with staff and peers. Supporting students through their GCSE's is very rewarding as this is the start to their post 16 steps.

We receive fantastic training which helps us keep up to date with the best resources to help support the student's needs. This is my first job in education, and I am looking forward to spending many more years excelling my career at Haven high.

Miss Howard – Specialist behavioural Teaching assistant
Diana.howard@havenhigh.net

We would also like to encourage students (and their parents) to contact us with individual successes, both in school and in their wider lives and the community. We are passionate about celebrating the success of all our students in whichever field that may be.
