

It's safe to say where has the time gone?! The first Term seems to have flown by. Staff have been super impressed by all of the students this term, they have come back to school and really worked hard from day 1, Y9 have settled on the Marian campus superbly and are loving the new challenges in the curriculum. Today we are taking over 100 students on a rewards trip to Blackfriars to see Jekyll and Hyde – I'm delighted to have been invited and look forward to accompanying the students.

Over half term we will be changing the clocks – please can you make sure your young people have bike lights if they are riding bikes to / from school in the dark and that they can 'Be Seen' – their safety is of paramount importance.

While we are not physically in school, we are still here to support you if you need us, we are just an email away at safe@havenhigh.net Finally, may I take this opportunity to wish you all a happy, relaxed and well deserved break.

Take Care - Emma Cresswell – Deputy Headteacher - emma.cresswell@havenhigh.net

Safeguarding Nugget

What is Misogyny?

Misogyny is hate against women & girls

- Catcalling
- Objectifying women and girls
- Gender stereotyping
- Prejudice behaviour
- Exclusion of women and girls from certain spaces
- Sexual harassment

It can cause women and girls to feel powerless, afraid and angry.

Misogyny Online

Misogyny is not new, but the internet has created more widespread exposure to it. Children may come across it in both subtle and obvious ways. Misogyny is largely found in videos, images and forums or comment sections.

- Name-calling or slurs
- language suggesting women and girls are lesser than men and boys
- Pornographic or vulgar images
- Content that puts down women

The Links Between Online Pornography and Misogyny

By the age of 9, 10% of children have already seen pornography, increasing to 27% by 11. The abuse of women across pornography online exposes children and young people to misogyny. It normalises harmful behaviour and causes confusion in young people who are exposed about what is healthy.

If unchallenged, misogyny can lead to sexual harassment and sexual violence

Three Ways to Tackle Misogyny in Children

Talk about it (especially with boys)

- Keep talking about misogyny and online hate even when the news isn't.
- Tackle the tough topics before they find out somewhere else
- Ask them to tell you what they know
- Make these conversations a normal part of everyday life.

Understand the pressures

- Pressures from social media, friends and society could impact their thoughts and actions.
- Discuss how their friends might impact their actions
- Work together to set boundaries
- Show them how and when to seek support

Challenge the narrative

- People who promote misogyny prepare their followers for rejection. Challenge this.
- Instead of telling a child these ideas are wrong, ask them to talk about their beliefs.
- Ask critical thinking questions in a calm and positive way.

Welcome to the Staff

We would like to introduce some of the key staff your young person will encounter...

I have worked at Haven High for over 14 years in various roles. Now as librarian, I ensure that both our libraries are well-stocked with a diverse range of fiction and non-fiction books and that all technology functions properly. I support library lessons, making sure every student has access to a reading book. It's wonderful to see students during break enjoying a quiet read or concentrating on their homework.

Mrs White – Librarian
Elizabeth.white@havenhigh.net

I currently work at Tollfield campus as a teaching assistant. This is my second academic year over at this site, I was originally at Marian. I have so much passion for my job and supporting the children to thrive. I help with interventions such as precision teaching. I am also a form tutor for year 8 and always try my best to set them up for a great day. I could not be prouder of the children here at Tollfield. I am working towards becoming a PE teacher however I am very content in my current job role.

Miss Broadbridge – Learning Assistant, Tollfield campus
Amy.broadbridge@havenhigh.net

After a career as a journalist, I retrained as a midwife but was drawn to working in education, supporting college students as a learning assistant and casual tutor. Following a short interlude working for the county council SEND team, I joined Haven High five years ago as a Literacy Additional Learning Assistant. I am part of a dedicated team who help students to overcome barriers to learning and to improve their literacy skills. I get so much satisfaction working with small groups, or one-to-one, on bespoke programmes. There is nothing quite like watching the moment a student 'gets it', or when they share a book, they have actually enjoyed!

Mrs Napier- Literacy Additional Learning Assistant
Lisa.napier@havenhigh.net

I am an ex-student who attended Haven High Sixth Form. I've worked as a PE teaching assistant at the school for ten years, beginning with an apprenticeship that led to my current position.

My position is highly fulfilling since you can witness the improvement made by individual pupils and develop strong relationships with them. I work with EHCP students to provide additional support to help them learn and develop.

Miss Roland-Shrubb – Learning Assistant
Sophie.roland-shrubb@havenhigh.net

We would also like to encourage students (and their parents) to contact us with individual successes, both in school and in their wider lives and the community. We are passionate about celebrating the success of all our students in whichever field that may be.
